Starting with Common Letters

This approach helps uncover multiple letters quickly and provides crucial clues for subsequent guesses. For instance, starting with a word like "STARE" or "RAINY" increases the likelihood of confirming or eliminating common letters early in the game.

Utilizing Letter Positioning Feedback

Paying close attention to the placement of green and yellow tiles is vital. Green tiles confirm correct letters in their precise positions, while yellow tiles indicate correct letters in incorrect positions. By logically rearranging yellow letters and eliminating impossible configurations, players can rapidly converge on the correct word.

Eliminating Improbable Letters

Tracking gray tiles eliminates letters that do not appear in the target word, thus reducing the pool of potential letters. This process of elimination is essential to avoid redundant guesses and to focus on plausible letter combinations.
